

Private, Semi-Private and Group Guitar and Bass Programs

Ava Music Education Centre has been providing guitar and bass instruction to students and guitar admirers for over 15 years now. There are a variety of classes available in private, semi-private or group settings, which are lead by our professional instructors and musicians.

The instructor's experience and skills of all styles of playing are accessible to the student (e.g. Classical, Rock, Blues, Soul, Jazz, Flamenco etc.) The course places emphasis on the need to perform and students will gain experience in areas of solo performance, session playing, accompaniment skills, and being part of a band. With consideration of versatility as a musician the course also includes teaching on harmony and theory, use of the fingerboard, and application of various techniques.

Acoustic Guitars are a very good place for children to begin their studies and exploration on the guitar, as many acoustic models can be found in smaller size for children.

The electric guitar is great for teenagers, but both young and old can find inspiration when they hear and feel the power of the Electric Guitar.

It is quite possible you might already have an old guitar sitting around the house. Often times these can still be quite playable, but you may want to have it adjusted and have the strings changed. Our professional staff are available to fix your old guitar for a very reasonable price. In our store you can find acoustic guitars with both nylon and steel strings, and dozens of different varieties of electric guitars and amplifiers. One of the best things about the Guitar is that even low cost instruments often play and sound very good after just a few lessons.

Guitar rentals are also available through Ava Music Education Centre upon enrolment in private, semi-private or group guitar programs, with special purchase options available upon completion. Please ask us for details!
